

Style Consultation

£150

90 minutes + a short written summary

A thoughtful starting point for a wardrobe that feels more like you. We take time to understand your style and the way you live, turning your ideas and uncertainties into a clear direction you can build on.

A conversation

We begin with what matters to you: the impression you would like to make, the clothes you enjoy wearing and the moments when getting dressed feels less straightforward. Your daily life, personal preferences and plans all have a place in the conversation. We listen to what you want your wardrobe to do, with your budget and goals in mind.

Your own direction

Together, we explore the shapes, fabrics and finishing details you are drawn to, considering why some choices feel natural and others less certain. We discuss how these ideas could work across the different parts of your life. There is room to develop a familiar style or explore something new, while keeping the direction personal and practical.

Clear next steps

Your short written summary brings together the direction we have agreed, useful ideas and the next steps that would be most helpful. It gives you something considered to return to when making future choices, whether that means looking differently at what you already own, identifying priorities or deciding where more focused styling support would be useful.

The consultation includes your short written summary. Any further styling, shopping or wardrobe service is booked separately.

Personal Shopping & Sourcing

£325 half day / £600 full day

Up to 4 / 8 hours total

A personal, hands-on approach to finding pieces that belong in your life. We shape a clear brief with you, then bring clothing, shoes, bags and accessories together into looks that feel considered, useful and your own.

A thoughtful brief

Your consultation gives us a sense of your style, lifestyle, budget and the occasion or wardrobe needs you have in mind. We explore what you want new pieces to add and how they might complement what you already wear. Mood boards and sketch ideas help make the direction tangible, giving us a shared starting point for the selection.

Finding the pieces

We source with the whole look in mind, considering fabric, proportion and the relationship between clothing and accessories. The aim is to find pieces that work together and make sense for you. Shopping support gives you space to compare options, consider alternatives and discover combinations you might not have imagined, with personal guidance as your choices take shape.

Bringing it together

Fittings allow us to see the pieces in context, exploring how they sit together and how comfortable they feel in movement. We refine combinations and finishing details with you, paying attention to the balance of the complete look. We take care of sourcing and garment returns, bringing the practical details together with the same attention as the look itself.

Clothing purchases, travel and garment hire are agreed separately. Extra time and additional looks are quoted individually.

Personal Event Styling

£350

One complete look · up to 4 hours total

One complete look for an occasion that matters to you. From the first conversation to the fitting, we bring your preferences and the setting together, developing an outfit that feels personal, appropriate and comfortable to wear.

The occasion and you

During your consultation, we explore the setting, dress code and how you would like to feel. We consider the mood of the event alongside your style preferences, budget and practical needs. These details shape a focused brief, so the look is developed with a clear understanding of both the occasion and the person wearing it.

A connected look

Your outfit proposal brings clothing, shoes, a bag and accessories into a coherent whole. We consider silhouette, fabric and proportion, looking at how each choice supports the overall impression. The proposal gives you a clear sense of the direction, with the finishing details considered alongside the clothing rather than left to the last moment.

The fitting and day

In one fitting, we assess how the pieces sit together, refine the styling and check your ease of movement. Attention to fit, balance and finishing touches helps the look feel natural to wear. If you would like help getting ready on the day, a separate two-hour dressing appointment offers calm, attentive support as you put the look on.

On-the-day dressing: £150 · 2 hours · booked separately.

Clothing purchases, travel and garment hire are agreed separately. Extra time and additional looks are quoted individually.

The Forever Wardrobe

Forever Wardrobe

£650

Up to 3 hours at home
+ up to 5 hours creating a private wardrobe
reference and recommendations.

Forever Wardrobe Extended

£1,300

Up to 8 hours at home
+ up to 8 hours creating a private wardrobe
reference and recommendations.

Rediscover what you own and build combinations that last. Both packages offer the same personal attention; Extended allows more time for a larger wardrobe and a more extensive private reference.

A wardrobe to live in

We review clothing, shoes, bags and accessories with you, considering fit, proportion and the way you live. Together, we rediscover pieces with potential and explore how they can work in fresh combinations. The home session gives us a practical understanding of your wardrobe, including what you enjoy wearing and where getting dressed could feel easier.

A private reference

Only selected pieces with styling potential are photographed for your stylist's private working folder. Creating this reference and your recommendations takes place beyond the home session, within the time allocated to your package. The folder lets us refer to your wardrobe when planning future looks without needing to be there in person; it is a working resource for your stylist.

Room for what lasts

We identify gaps and recommend lasting key pieces that would make your wardrobe more versatile. Nothing needs to be removed. If you wish, we can suggest unworn pieces to consider selling, with the option to put proceeds towards new additions. Resale advice is included in both packages; managing the sales is a separate service.

Choose Forever Wardrobe for a considered review, or Extended for more time across a more extensive wardrobe. Clothing purchases, travel and garment hire are agreed separately. Extra time and a larger wardrobe scope are quoted individually.

Celebrity & Performance Styling

£550 per day

Up to 8 hours · £125 per hour after 8 hours

Discreet styling and dressing support for photo shoots, performances, award shows and appearances. We give the look and its finishing details attentive care, helping you feel composed, comfortable and ready for the moment.

The complete look

We consider the clothing, shoes and accessories as a whole, paying attention to silhouette, proportion and the balance of the finishing touches. The setting and nature of the appearance guide our eye, alongside your preferences. We look at how the outfit reads in person and on camera, keeping the overall impression coherent and true to you.

Fit and movement

The way a look behaves matters as much as the way it appears. We check how garments sit and drape, how layers work together and whether fastenings and accessories are comfortably placed. Movement helps us assess the styling in use, so the details are considered around what you need to do during your appearance or performance.

An attentive presence

Working around the rhythm of your booked day, we provide calm dressing support and thoughtful checks of the look as needed. We give personal space and comfort the same attention as the clothes, approaching adjustments with care and discretion. From dressing to the final details, the focus is on helping you feel settled in what you are wearing.

Preparation and sourcing are booked separately through Personal Shopping & Sourcing. Clothing purchases, travel and garment hire are agreed separately.

Bridal Styling

Price on application

A deeply personal, hands-on experience, working alongside you to bring your bridal vision to life. Together, we source the outfits you need across your wedding celebrations, with the aim of making choosing them a joyful part of the occasion.

Your personal vision

We begin with you: the clothes you love, the ideas you have gathered and how you want to feel. Your setting, celebrations and budget give us a starting point. Through conversation and visual inspiration, we explore a direction that feels beautiful and individual, giving you space to discover possibilities and confidence to choose what feels right.

Every bridal look

From the celebrations before the wedding to the ceremony, evening and moments afterwards, we plan your bridal wardrobe around the events you have chosen. We source and consider each outfit with you, bringing together clothing, shoes and accessories. Shape, fabric, fit and movement receive careful attention, so each look has its own character while belonging to the same personal vision.

By your side

Whether your date is approaching or you would like a more detailed planning journey, we discuss the pace and support that are possible within your timeframe. We work closely with you as choices come together, with fittings and on-the-day dressing individually arranged where requested. The intention is an experience to remember, helping you feel beautiful, confident and entirely yourself.

Your personal proposal sets out the celebrations, outfits, appointments and any dressing support agreed for your dates. Clothing purchases, travel and garment hire are agreed separately.

Holiday Wardrobe Styling

Price on application

A holiday wardrobe shaped around the places you are going and the way you love to dress. We work alongside you to bring together complete, versatile looks, making the anticipation of your trip part of the pleasure.

Your trip, your style

We start with a conversation about your destination, travel dates and time away, taking in the climate, itinerary and occasions you have planned. From relaxed days to special dinners, we consider how you want to look and feel, alongside comfort, personal preferences and budget. Together, we establish a direction that suits both you and the rhythm of your holiday.

Considered pieces

We look first at the pieces you already own and enjoy wearing, exploring what will work for this trip and where something is missing. We then source additions with you, choosing clothing, shoes, bags and accessories that bring the wardrobe together. Fabrics, layers and practical details guide the selection, with an eye for pieces you will want to wear again.

Beautiful combinations

We bring the pieces together into complete outfits for the plans ahead, showing you how small changes can create a different mood. A shared palette, useful layers and thoughtfully chosen accessories allow favourite items to work across several looks. We talk through the combinations with you, so you can see how the wardrobe works and feel excited about wearing it.

Your personal proposal sets out the trip, outfit planning, sourcing and appointments agreed around your departure date. Clothing and accessory purchases are separate from the styling fee.
